

Meet: Talifah Sharnaleese PUSAL

also known as "Tali" (DOB 29th May, 2001)

Talifah often called "Tali" or "Sharna" is a young woman whose life reflects both quiet resilience and extraordinary courage. From an early age, she has faced challenges that could have easily dimmed her spirit - but with the unwavering support of her family, she has risen each time with grace.

Those who know Tali understand that her strength is steady, grounded, and deeply rooted in hope for a better future.

Tali's World

At the heart of Tali's world is her family. As the eldest sister, she carries a responsibility she embraces with love—guiding, nurturing, and standing as a source of comfort for her younger sisters. They are her number one fans. She is their encourager, their protector, their motivation, their safe place, their example of strength, resilience, kindness and perseverance.

Her presence brings a sense of unity and level of care only a big sister can provide; she is, in many ways, the incredible strength that inspires us. Her journey has never been hers alone—it is shared, supported, and uplifted by those who love her most.

"Thank you all for taking the time to meet me here. God Bless!" .. Tali

Family

- One of the most treasured relationships in Tali's life was with her grandmother, whose love shaped her deeply. Though her grandmother has since passed, Tali carries her memory as a source of strength and comfort.
- Her family holds a quiet but steadfast belief—that her grandmother now watches over her as a guardian angel, walking beside her through this battle, holding her hand in ways unseen but deeply felt. It is this sense of connection, of love that transcends even loss, that continues to give Tali courage.

The Future

Tali's life is precious—not only because of the fight she is facing today, but because of the future that lies ahead of her. She is at the beginning of a journey filled with promise, purpose, and potential.

With a natural gift for creativity, Tali aspires to become a Creative Director within Papua New Guinea's fashion industry.

She dreams of building a brand that celebrates and preserves PNG culture—one that honors traditional motifs, stories, and identity through modern, expressive design.

Talent

Her artistic talent and keen eye for graphic design place her in a unique position to bring this vision to life. Tali does not simply create for aesthetics - she creates with meaning. Through her work, she hopes to inspire pride in cultural identity, to encourage self-expression, and to open pathways for others, especially youth, to share their stories.

Her passion is deeply personal and purpose-driven: to use creativity as a bridge between heritage and the future.

"Please join me, in my fight against Leukemia. Thank you" ..Tali

Entrepreneurship

- Tali envisions one day running her own business - one that nurtures creativity, empowers others, and showcases the richness of PNG culture to the world.
- With her IT background, she plans to intergrate immersive technologies into her passion for design and creativity.
- It is a dream she carries with excitement and determination, a future she looks toward with hope.

The Hope & Promise for Tomorrow

Supporting Tali is about more than helping her survive this moment—it is about protecting a life filled with purpose. It is about preserving the love she gives to her family, the inspiration she offers to others, and the contributions she is yet to make to her country.

"Tali is deeply loved because she loves deeply. She is strong because she has learned to stand through every storm. And she is worth fighting for—not only because of who she is, but because of the beautiful future she is still meant to live."
